Importers of Audi / VW / Skoda / Seat Parts

Volume 35

Spring 2014

Vagn says...

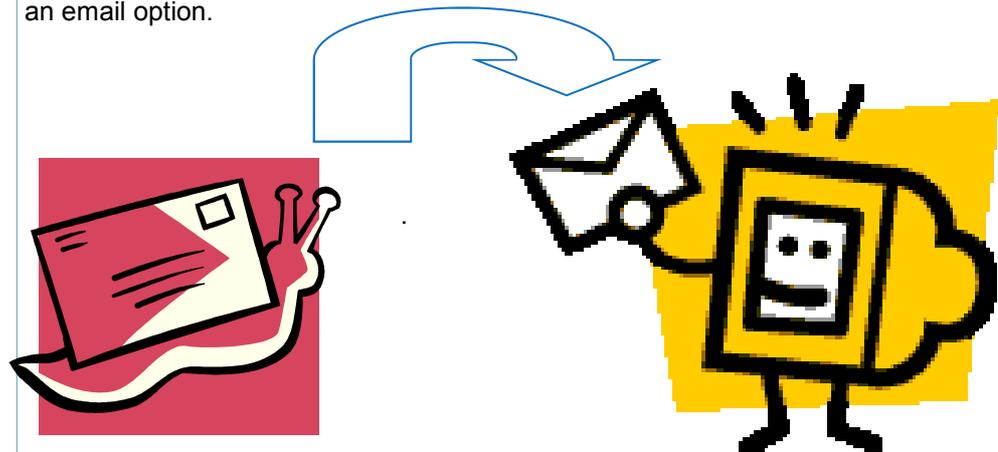

Hi Everyone

In mid September, Wayne, Alaster and myself will be attending the Automechanika trade show in Frankfurt. The trade show is something we attend every second year to keep us up to date with the latest technology for repairing vehicles, from parts to technical equipment. It also gives us an insight into new developments about to be released. Volkswagen & Audi always have a great presence at the show. Watch our facebook page for photos and news from the show.

The cost of postage is forever increasing, so anybody who would like to receive their newsletter by email, please email holly@qualitat.co.nz As an extra incentive, there will be a $100 MTA voucher draw for anybody who changes from the mail option to an email option.

Keep your vehicle well maintained at all times - your life may depend on it.

By now, you have probably all seen The People's Film. However, if by chance you have not, it can be viewed at -

VW New Zealand thought that this would be a novel and important way in which to celebrate sixty years of Volkswagens in New Zealand. It is an eclectic collage of ordinary everyday Volkswagen owners enjoying their lives in and around their much-loved vehicles.

The big performers over the years have been the Beetle, the ever versatile Kombi, the sporty Golf, and more recently the stylish SUV workhorse of the Amarok.

Whatever your personal memories of these iconic vehicles may be, we can all feel proud of sixty years in and around Volkswagens in New Zealand

From fighter jets to Volkswagens !

The latest VW Passat will be fitted with safety features first pioneered on planes such as the F-16.

The system projects speed and navigation data to a retractable screen over the steering wheel, to keep the driver's focus on the road.

Also available, will be a safety option that can bring the car autonomously to a halt if the driver falls asleep.

These features would normally only be available in the higher-end market, guess you could say in true 'people's car' philosophy - Volkswagen is living up to its name.

Appearance is not forgotten, with a new sleeker-racy look, that should impress.

It will be competitively marketed and priced, to provide an excellent choice for any discerning car buyer.

when will I get a 'real' one ?

Volkswagen in China

Volkswagen is to build two more plants in China to maintain its strong presence in this fast growing market.

VW predicts it may sell more than 3.5 million vehicles in China this current year.

China has become their largest and currently most important market, with a focus on compact cars.

Common safety features in most later model cars.

These days it is important to focus on the safety features a vehicle offers. If you are considering updating your present vehicle bear this in mind, it should at least have the following features.

Electronic Stability Control. (ESC). This helps drivers avoid crashes by reducing the danger of skidding or losing control as a result of oversteering. It uses computer-controlled technology to apply individual brakes and to help bring the car safely back on track, without the danger of fish-tailing.

Curtain airbag

Activates instantly in the event of a side-impact crash, deploying from the top of the door rails above the side window. They form a cushion between the driver or passenger, and the window, and stay in place if the car rolls over, to protect their head. Research indicates that these head protecting airbags reduce driver deaths in the event of a side-impact crash by nearly 40%.

3-point seat belt in back seat

3-point seatbelts go over the waist and the shoulder. They provide much better protection than 2-point lap only seatbelts, which can in fact, lead to serious injuries.

ABS (Antilock Braking System)

Reduces the risk of tyres skidding under heavy braking and allows the driver to maintain steering control of the car. Only operates under heavy braking or on slippery surfaces.

Skoda proves popular with UK drivers.

The Skoda Yeti has won an annual customer satisfaction survey for the third year in a row, while the Czech manufacturer took the top three places.

The Skoda Yeti recorded an overall score of 92.7 per cent, with the Citigo and Superb taking close second and third places with 92.6 per cent and 91.6 per cent respectively. The Yeti was voted the easiest car to drive, and the Citigo the most affordable to run.
